

WHY THE ALLIANCE?

Western Energy Alliance represents companies engaged in all aspects of environmentally responsible exploration and production of oil and natural gas in the West. We advocate on behalf of independent producers and companies that support them, from drilling and field services to midstream, financial, legal, environmental consulting, and others.

The Alliance engages in federal legislative, public lands, environmental, regulatory, and tribal issues from a western regional perspective. We work with Congress and local, state, and federal policymakers to improve the environment for your business.

The Alliance takes the “Alliance” in our name seriously by collaborating with a broad array of stakeholders across the West and in D.C. We show robust support for oil and natural gas in the West when our voice is amplified by tribes, ranchers, other industries, royalty owners, conservationists, civic organizations, and others.

Leadership on Regional Issues

Issues that affect all development and production on both federal and nonfederal lands such as air quality, methane rules, endangered species, LNG exports, and access to capital.

Promotion of Responsible Access

Access to non-park, non-wilderness public lands. Western Energy Alliance is leading the charge against President Biden’s ban on leasing.

Legal Defense of the Industry

We’re defending the entire federal onshore system on both new and existing leases.

Out-Front Media Relations

The Alliance is the voice of the industry in the West. We frequently appear in regional, national and international media such as the Wall Street Journal, New York Times, Washington Post, BBC, and NPR.

Political Action Committee

Our PAC supports candidates for federal office who support energy development.

Networking Events

Events that build the community in the West while enhancing collaboration on important issues facing the industry.
