

PRODUCTION & RESERVES

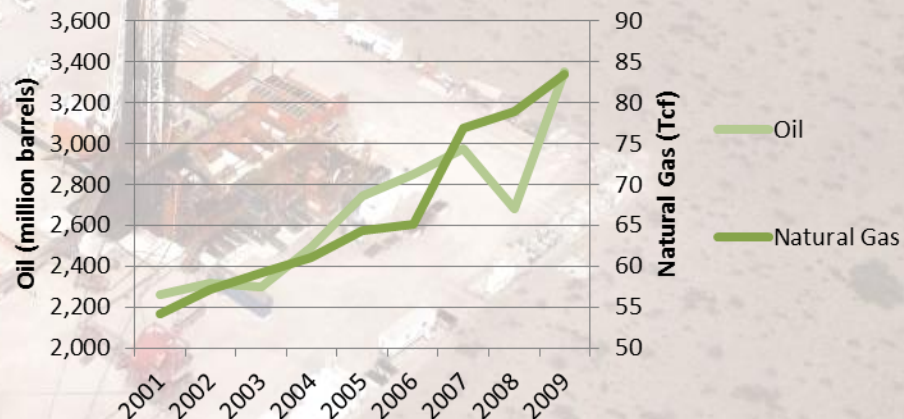

Federal Production in the West vs. Total U.S. Onshore Production (million barrels of oil equivalent)

- 95% of U.S. federal onshore oil and natural gas is produced in the West.
- 44% of total western oil and natural gas production is federal — 28% of oil and 49% of natural gas.

The West currently holds 31% of total U.S. natural gas reserves and 16% of total U.S. oil reserves.

Reserve Growth in the West (2001-2011)

Production Growth in the West (2001-2011)

The West currently provides 26% of total U.S. natural gas and 18% of total U.S. oil production.

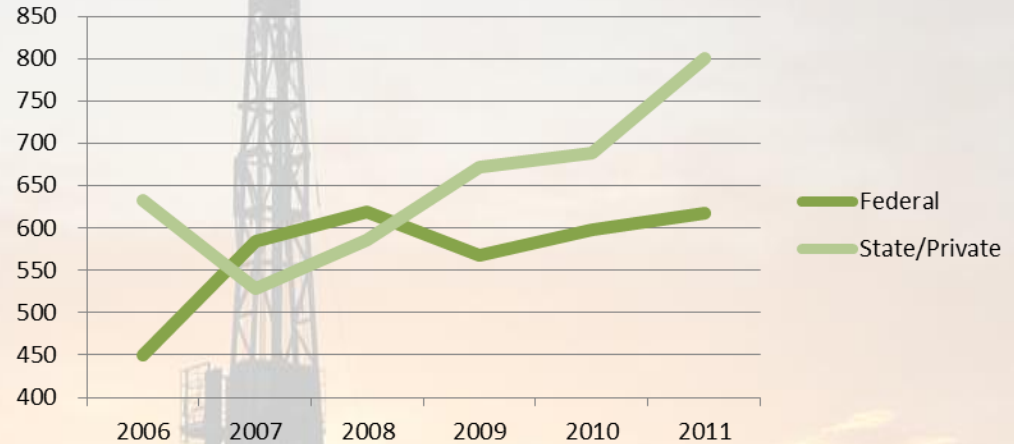

Click here to view the supporting data

PRODUCTION & RESERVES

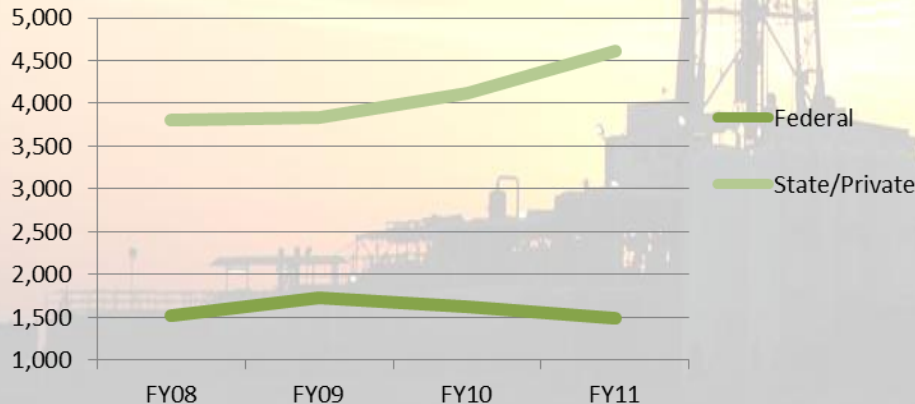

- While natural gas production on federal lands in the West declined 4% since FY 2008, production on state and private lands has increased 29%.
- While oil production on federal lands in the West is up 26%, it's not keeping pace with state and private production which is up 54%.

State/Private vs. Federal Oil & Gas Production in the West (million barrels of oil equivalent)

- Total U.S. onshore and offshore oil production increased by 4% and natural gas by 8% from 2010 to 2011. However, production from federal lands actually decreased — oil by 11% and natural gas by 6% — over the same time period.
- From FY 2008 to FY 2011, federal onshore oil production is down 1% and natural gas down 5%.

Total U.S. State/Private vs. Federal Oil and Gas Production (million barrels of oil equivalent)

Click here to view the supporting data

